PERSIMMON CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, LP

Persimmon Long/Short Fund
Fact Sheet June 30, 2018

With a Goal of "Winning by Not Losing", the Persimmon Long/Short Fund was designed as a Multi-Manager approach providing investors with diversified exposure to the Long/Short equity asset class designed to reduce single manager risk. Persimmon believes that Long/Short Equity strategies can produce equity-like returns with less volatility than traditional equity investments by combining a select group of "alpha" seeking Long/Short Equity managers that offer complementary strategies across various styles, market capitalizations, sectors and geography. The Persimmon portfolio management team actively monitors the performance, exposures, leverage, concentration and process of each of the underlying hedge fund managers on a daily basis with the objective of delivering a superior risk adjusted return over a complete market cycle.

PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURE

The performance data quoted here represents past performance. For more current performance information, please call toll-free 855-233-8300 or visit our website, www.persimmonfunds.com. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted above. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment in the Fund will fluctuate so that investors' shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Fund's investment adviser has contractually agreed to reduce its fees (4.22% gross/3.88% net) and/or absorb expenses until at least January 31, 2019, to ensure that net annual, operating expenses of the Class I Shares will not exceed 2.75%, subject to possible recoupment from the Fund in future years. Without these waivers, the Class I shares total annual operating expenses would be 4.22%. Please review the Fund's prospectus for more information regarding the Fund's fees and expenses, including other share classes.

DEFINITIONS

Long: Buying a security such as a stock, commodity or currency, with the expectation that the asset will rise in value.

Short: Any sale that is completed by the delivery of a security borrowed by the seller. Short sellers assume they will be able to buy the stock at a lower amount than the price.

Hedge: Making an investment to reduce the risk of adverse price movements in an asset. Normally, a hedge consists of taking an offsetting position in a related security, such as a futures contract.

Alpha:The abnormal rate of return on a security or portfolio in excess of what would be predicted by an equilibrium model, such as the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM).

Beta: A measure of the volatility, or systematic risk, of a security or a portfolio in comparison to the market as a whole. Beta is used in CAPM to estimate expected returns.

Indicies: Indices presented are for comparison purposes only. They may not hold substantially similar securities to the Fund, and thus, little correlation may exist. The S&P 500 index measures the return of 500 widely held securities that currently trade in the US. HFRXEH (HFRX Equity Hedge) is a daily index of Long/Short Equity Hedge Fund Returns provided by Hedge Fund Research (hedgefundresearch.com). Index performance returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. Indices are unmanaged and one may not invest directly in an index.

RISK DISCLOSURE

Mutual Funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. The Fund will invest a percentage of its assets in derivatives and options contracts. The use of such investments and the resulting high portfolio turnover, may expose the Fund to additional risks that it would not be subject to if it invested directly in the securities of the underlying those derivatives. The Fund may experience losses that exceed those experienced by funds that do not use options and derivatives. The Fund may invest in high-yield or junk bonds which present a greater risk than bonds of higher quality. Other risks include credit risks and investments in fixed income securities that may be subject to default, prepayment and interest rate changes. The Fund may also invest in U.S. Treasury obligations and securities issued by federal agencies and U.S. government sponsorship. Investments in foreign securities and emerging markets involve risks not generally associated with investments in securities of U.S. companies including currency rate changes, sovereign debt risk, political, social and economic conditions, accurate company information, foreign control of investment and market operations, including banks and security depositories. These risks may be greater in emerging markets and less developed countries. ETNs and ETFs are subject to investment strategy risks and expenses which are indirectly paid by the Fund. The value of small or medium capitalization equities and issuers may be subject to more erratic market movements than those of larger more established companies and issuers invested directly in the underlying securities of those derivatives. Furthermore, the use of short positions can magnify the potential for gain or loss and amplify the effects of market volatility on the Fund's share price
